What is it about?
This programme aims to:
- provide students with solid general knowledge of historical and social change and development in China, particularly in the areas of history, culture, politics, social development, urban and regional development, and emerging social and economic issues in the context of historical and economic transformation.
- enhance students’ ability to exercise critical judgment on humanities and social science subjects and current issues concerning China’s development.
- provide students with the opportunity of developing a grounded understanding of historical and social change and development in China through experiential learning activities (e.g. exchange, fieldwork and internship).
- equip students with the basic theoretical and methodological training that would enable them to pursue further study at the postgraduate level on China studies and/or Asian studies or research related careers.
- enhance students’ awareness of social issues and problems in China and prepare them for advocacy of improving the human condition in China.
